

SUBMITTING FIRST FLIGHT REPORTS

So the big day has finally come, your new RV has slipped the surly bonds and you now know – really know – what the RV Grin is all about.

Good for you.

If you'd like to share the excitement with Van's and the RV community, you can submit a First Flight Report to webmaster@vansaircraft.com.

A couple paragraphs about your airplane – engine, prop, weight, avionics, unique features, ect. – are always interesting. You'll want to thank all the folks who helped along the way. One or two well-focused photos are welcome. Pilots exhibiting the RV Grin are always good....

We will post reports in the First Flights section of the website where they will reside for all the world to see...at least until the next fifteen RVs fly and the list moves on.
